- 1. On 17 October 2011 the Trial Chamber informed the parties by way of an email that opening statements in Case 002 will commence on 21 November 2011, later confirmed in a Memorandum.<sup>1</sup> The defence were notified that, in accordance with Internal Rule 89*bis*, each defence team will have half a day to make its opening statement, which includes any statement from the Accused.
- 2. The defence notes that in their Memorandum of 27 October 2011,<sup>2</sup> the Trial Chamber highlighted that the Co-Prosecutors are on notice that an Accused may choose to respond to questions following the opening of the substantive trial on 28 November 2011.
- 3. As previously indicated, and set out in the motion filed on 1 November 2011,<sup>3</sup> the defence is unable to take instructions from the Accused due to her mental state, and in particular her memory impairment. As a consequence of this incapacity the Accused cannot contribute in any meaningful way to the preparation of her case for trial nor to its presentation before the Trial Chamber. She is not in a position to understand questions posed to her and respond in a rational and coherent manner. Due to significant deficits in her long and short term memory, the Accused is unable to provide information as to her activities and role during the relevant period of the indictment, namely between 1975 and 1979, or to recall events more generally in her early life and in the years following the collapse of the regime of Democratic Kampuchea. Accordingly, she will not be making any statement during the opening stage of the trial nor is she in a position to testify in the trial in the exercise of her fair trial rights. In the circumstances, the defence
