AKRVC President Theary Seng's Open Letter to UN Co-Prosecutor Andrew Cayley

Dear Prosecutor Cayley:

I would like to publicly and personally express my deep gratitude to you for your very noble stance on Case 003 starting with the public release of information which has allowed victims to file as civil parties and your subsequent responses to the incomprehensible actions of the Co-Investigating Judges.

In light of the 8 June 2011 article Leaked document casts doubt on impartiality of Khmer Rouge judges in the Christian Science Monitor and pursuant to Internal Rule 54, I would like to encourage and request that you provide the same level of detailed information on Case 004 in order that more victims can file as civil parties. And to do this now. It does not take away my gratitude and the nobility of your action, but we the victims could have benefited greatly from time if you had released earlier the information on Case 003.

The Extraordinary Chambers is suffering from the rapidly deteriorating loss of public confidence; you can help to restore this confidence and set the ECCC on a more right course by releasing the information on Case 004 to the victims rather than have the victims obtain the information through a leak. In light of the high frustration from deceit and secrecy within and outside the ECCC, I can assure you, the leak will happen again, if I am to read correctly the state of affairs and guess the direction of public angst.

Best regards,

Theary C. SENG
Representative of the Civil Parties of Orphans Class,
Association of Khmer Rouge Victims in Cambodia
