On 29 April 2010, the Co-Investigating Judges announced their intention to deliver, on 1 June 2010, an Order designating lawyers for all those Civil Parties who did not yet have legal representation at that time.¹

This Order has not yet been able to be delivered because of the inherent requirement that additional lawyers [first] be recruited by the Office of Administration. The recruitment process is under way but, to date, the lawyers in question have not yet been selected.

Pursuant to ECCC Internal Rule 23ter(2)(a), as amended at the last Plenary Meeting, “...by the issuance of the Closing Order, all Civil Parties shall be represented by a lawyer” and “the Co-Investigating Judges shall make appropriate orders for this purpose”.

The above-mentioned Order will be delivered as soon as possible.
